Office of the Minister

324 Legislature Building, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada T5K 2B6 403/427-2137

January, 1988

Agriculture is one of Alberta's most important industries. As a provider of food, as a creator of revenue and as an employer, agriculture plays an essential role in our province's economy and contributes to the well-being of all Albertans.

The Government of Alberta recognizes the great importance of this contribution, and of efforts to promote further growth and progress in agriculture. For this reason, the government accords a high priority to the development of Alberta's value-added agricultural processing industry.

Alberta's secondary agri-food sector has developed rapidly in recent years. Now a multi-billion dollar industry, it employs thousands of people across the province in processing, manufacturing, transporting and retailing agricultural and food products. As part of our effort to promote further expansion in this vital sector, Alberta Agriculture is pleased to provide the "Directory of Alberta's Agricultural Processing Industry."

The directory, an index of the names, locations and products of participants in Alberta's agricultural processing industry, has been designed to help the business community, government agencies and all other interested parties keep pace with the rapid development taking place in agri-food processing. In compiling the directory, we have made every effort to ensure complete and accurate information as of the date of printing.

I hope you find the "Directory of Alberta's Agricultural Processing Industry" a helpful reference, and trust that the directory will make a useful contribution toward further progress in our province's agri-food processing industry.

Peter Elzinga
Minister of Agriculture
